Credit Portfolio Management

The division Europe/Latin America (EULA5) underwrites credit risks, primarily (trade) credit, bond, and political risks, as well as other financial & enterprise risks. Within our unit, Portfolio Management is responsible for managing the worldwide credit portfolio, pricing large reinsurance treaties, and administering credit-specific IT activities. In addition, the team provides support for innovation and business development within the scope of EULA5.

We offer you the opportunity to gain insights into a DAX40 company and gain first experience in credit insurance. You will be part of a young, dynamic, and international team. If you are highly motivated and interested in working with data, we are looking forward to your application! Ideally available for 2-4 days per week for approx. 6 months

Your Job

- Create a database for exposures relative to political risk insurance solutions
- Develop Excel-based tools to support data processing and monitoring
- Refine our political insurance credit pricing tool
Your Profile

- Bachelor or Master student in Business, Economics, Natural Sciences, or related quantitative disciplines
- Interested in credit business
- Good knowledge in MS Excel
- Programming skills (especially VBA) are an advantage
- Able to work autonomously, accurately, and with a high degree of self-responsibility
- Fluent in German and/or English

Students from countries outside the EU require a German residence-/work permit.
